Women Owned and Operated

Sustainability

For Fast Penny Spirits, sustainability is always top of mind. From where they source the botanicals to their packaging materials, they make daily decisions with a constant filter on impact. They are continually exploring how they can do things better for the quality of their amaro and the health of the planet.

A Taste of the PNW

Whether it's local black truffles foraged by dogs, organic saffron from central Washington, or sulfur-free dried fruits from Northern California, Fast Penny Spirits captures the bounty of the Pacific Northwest landscape in two exquisite spirits.

Pretty Penny Give Back

From the beginning, Fast Penny knew they wanted to have a give-back program. Adoringly called Pretty Penny, the give-back program contributes 3% of bottle revenue to elevate women in business, our communities, and the industry.
